

Ivo Kramoliš is an associate Partner and Public Sector leader at IBM GBS Czech Republic, coordinating several activities across CEE area with regard to biometric solutions and road user charging. Previously Ivo worked for Siemens for 10 years. Ivo was responsible as a project manager for digitalization of the Czech telephony network. He acquired and delivered an Integrated Rescue System radio and data backbone to the Czech Ministry of Interior that helped police, military, fire brigades to overcome several critical threats to the Czech Society, e.g. IWF, WB summit demonstrations, NATO summit demonstration and helped to organize the protection of the Prague City during the devastating floods in 2002. Afterwards Ivo has been assigned as a director of Special Projects coordination cross-divisional large scale project in Siemens. Ivo joined IBM in May 2005.